DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent; or
(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for the purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ferguson, US 6,703,988.

Re claim 1, Ferguson discloses a display apparatus of stereoscopic image using circular polarization (fig. 3, col. 5, lines 55-65), comprising:

first and second image display devices arranged in perpendicular from each other for displaying images corresponding to both left and right eyes (12a, 12b);

first and second polarizer plates respectively provided in the front of said first and second image display devices (13a, 13b);

a half-mirror provided between said first and second image display devices (14, Ferguson discloses beam splitter, but a half-mirror is a beam splitter); and a glass window having a quarter-wave plate in order to opposed said first image display device in parallel (21', col. 3, lines 60-67).

Art Unit: 2613

Re claim 2, the display apparatus according to claim 1, wherein said first polarizer plate has a vertically or horizontally directed polarizing axis, and said second polarizer plate has a horizontally or vertically directed polarizing axis.

(In Fergason, the polarizer plates 13a,13b are linear polarizer plates, so each can have either a vertically or horizontally directed polarizing axis.)

Re claim 3, the display apparatus according to claim 1, wherein said half-mirror has a slope of 45 degree about both of said first and second image display devices.

(In Fergason, the beam splitter is at an angle of 45 degrees relative to the two displays. See col. 3, lines 4-13.)

Re claim 4, the display apparatus according to claim 1, wherein each of said first and second image display devices is made of a liquid crystal panel.

(In Fergason, the two displays 12a,12b are LCDs. See col. 2, lines 49-55, col. 3, lines 38-47.)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fergason as applied to claims 1-4 above and further in view of applicant's admitted prior art (fig. 2a, Specification, p. 2, lines 10-15).

Art Unit: 2613

Re claim 5, Fergason discloses the same liquid crystal panel displays, and suggests the LCD displays may have integrated polarizer plates (col. 4, lines 50-55). Fergason however, does not explicitly disclose whether linear polarizer plates are attached to both front and rear sides of a liquid crystal, and a back light arranged in the rear side arranged in the middle and rear of said linear polarizer plates as claimed.

Applicant's admitted prior art (fig. 2a, Specification, p. 2, lines 10-15) acknowledges such convention is well known in the art. Therefore, taken the combined teaching of Fergason and applicant's admitted prior art, it would have been obvious to provide LCD panel display having linear polarizer plates attached to both front and rear sides of a liquid crystal, and a back light arranged in the rear side arranged in the middle and rear of said linear polarizer plates as claimed, for the benefit of polarized light resulted from the LCD display itself.

Drawings

5. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description:

Reference sign "460" as described in the specification (p. 6) for figure 4 is not shown.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 2613
